Report: Both sides had a few regulars missing for this now Annual Pre-Season Friendly, which we managed to win mainly because Cuffley had an outfield player in goal, whereas we were able to call up Marcello Devizio to replace the unavailable Stavros Elia and with 'March' making a number of good saves, including a penalty after his 'sock trick' worked again, we never looked like losing the game even though Cuffley had more shots than us. The various new players in our squad did reasonably well, but their passing was a bit below our standards and they played too many long balls at times, so the half-time introduction of the Dorwards and John Beasley was necessary to get things back to normal.
