Report: At last...a win !! (our first in nine matches !), although it was two very late goals from the Dorward brothers that saw us gain the three points in the end after both of them originally had to be named as substitutes after turning up late (again). Before they came on though, the game looked to be heading towards a boring 0-0 draw with Data, like us, having also suffered a loss of quality players over the last year or so and with both sides stuck in mid-table with nothing to play for, several players went through the motions a bit. However, at least Gary Odell got a rare chance to start a match, while Stavros Elia had a better game than normal and kept a clean sheet for the first time in 12 matches.
